Severe Penalty Is Meted to Lake

Judge Burr Pronounces Sentence of Not More Nor Less Than Five Years; Considers Jury Very Lenient.

Louis Lake was sentenced in the Circuit Court last Saturday morning to the most severe penalty which the law permits, five years in the territorial penitentiary and the costs of the trial. Eugene Murphy excepted to the sentence. Previously he had filed a notice of appeal.

In pronouncing sentence of Lake Judge Burr said that Lake might have faced murder charges. He did not know what facts were presented to the grand jury upon which they based their indictment of manslaughter. He added that where a person killed another in the commission of an assault intent was to be presumed under the law. He touched on the testimony of Dr. Lightner who had said that in his opinion the injuries which occasioned White's death were probably the result of a blow with something other than a fist.

Judge Burr spoke of the three degrees of manslaughter under the laws of Hawaii and said that the jury had shown great leniency in convicting of that crime in the third instead of a higher degree. He touched on the lack of explicit definition in the Hawaiian statute of such three degrees but showed that under ordinary legal definitions manslaughter in the third degree would be such an offense as a man driving down a crowded thoroughfare at a lawful rate of speed, failing to avoid and so striking and killing a pedestrian. He considered Lake's offense far more serious.

The law provides, the judge continued, a sentence not to exceed five years in the penitentiary or a fine not to exceed $1000. He sentenced Lake to serve a term not more than nor less than five years in the penitentiary.

Lake seemed rather stunned at the severity of the sentence.

Former Teacher of Paia Is Swept From Ledge and Drowns

Miss Sara M. Shurrer a former Maui teacher was swept from a ledge of Koko Head, Oahu, by a huge wave and drowned on Sunday. A private dispatch received Sunday night brought the move announcement to Maui and Associated Press reports to this paper yesterday morning gave the details. Miss Shurrer taught in the Paia school last year and when she went from Maui at the end of the school year she left many friends behind her.

With a party of Trail and Mountain Club hikers Miss Shurrer had gone from Honolulu to ascend to the Koko Head craters. With Miss Mary Lindsay, another teacher, she had preceded the rest of the party. They had been warned of the danger from high seas. They proceeded around the head and had reached a ledge at Hanalei Bay, about half a mile from the big hole when a high sea swept upon them, knocking down both the girls. Miss Lindsay says she managed to hold on to the rocks but that Miss Shurrer appears to have been stunned by the fall and was carried off by the back wash. Miss Lindsay made her way to the edge of the ledge and looked over and saw Miss Shurrer floating motionless on the waves.

Members of the Trail and Mountain Club hurried to the spot but were too late to render any assistance. By the time they arrived the body had disappeared.

Miss Lindsay was taken to Honolulu and the police notified of the accident. An officer and two trustees were sent out and the body was finally recovered with some difficulty owing to the rough seas.

Miss Shurrer was 29 years of age and had a fine record as a teacher. A native of Iowa, after securing her education she taught in North Dakota and Minnesota, coming to the Islands in 1920. After the school year in Paia Miss Shurrer was transferred to Hawaii but then assigned to Pohukaina School in Honolulu. A memorial service was held in that school for her yesterday morning. A message was sent to her mother and brother in Minnesota inquiring as to their wishes for disposition of the body.

Renewed Rioting Is Reported From India

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LONDON, Feb. 7—Renewed rioting, involving the killing of 17 policemen and four of the attackers occurred in several parts of India at the week end. The disturbances were simultaneous with the issuance of a declaration by Gandhi, the non-cooperation leader that civil disobedience will become effective unless amnesty were granted for Saturday's affairs when a large crowd of nationalists attempted to seize a town hall and were routed after several were killed and wounded.

Gandhi's declaration is contained in a letter sent to the vice-roy in which he said he would advise the postponement of civil disobedience if the government would reconsider the situation and release all political prisoners within a week.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Conference at End Tributes Paid Success

President Praises Delegates on Splendid Accomplishments; Chinese Delegation Expresses Satisfaction.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—After the signing of the various pacts by the delegations to the conference for the limitation of armaments adjournment was taken sine die. The Shantung agreement had been signed Saturday. The close came just twelve weeks to the day from the time of its assembling.

At the close of the conference a statement was issued by the Chinese delegation which said in part: "The ideals of the principles enunciated at the conference transcend in impressiveness the form in which they are embodied. China is deeply indebted to President Harding, Secretary Hughes and to Balfour for the settlement of the Shantung question which removes the great cause of friction between China and Japan, and the formal adoption of the principles which will guide the powers in their intercourse with China are satisfactory to the Chinese people because they are confident the steady application of those principles will provide a solution for many of the problems which are now embarrassing."

Commenting on the accomplishments to the conference President Harding said: "No new standards of national honor have been sought but indictments of national dishonor have been drawn."

"Your achievement is supreme because no seed of conflict has been sown. No faction in regret or resentment ever can justify a resort to arms. The whole achievement has so cleared the atmosphere that it will seem like breathing the refreshing air of a new morn of promise to all."

"The world is not yet tranquilized but here is an example to imbue with a new hope those who dwell in apprehension."

"Once I believed in armed preparedness. I advocated it. But I have come to believe there is a better preparedness in the public mind and world opinion that is ready to grant justice precisely as it exacts it."

"The torches of an understanding have been lighted and they ought to glow and encircle the globe with their light."

Accomplishments of the conference include six completed treaties, two other treaties agreed to in substance, 14 resolutions and ten separate or joint declarations of international policy.

Former Valet is Key Taylor Murder Case

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—It is reported that a telegraphic warrant for the arrest of E. F. Sands, charging murder of William Desmond Taylor, Lasky director whose body was found in his apartment last Wednesday morning, has been sent to Carlin, Nevada, where Sands is reported to be under surveillance. Sands was the former valet of Taylor.

While the police were emining Taylor's effects in the search for clues they found a note written on Mary Miles Minter's monogrammed stationery, professing love for Taylor. The Examiner says Miss Minter admitted she loved Taylor.

The police denied that a warrant has issued for Sands but admit they believe he is the key to the murder mystery. They said the only warrants issued in connection with Sands are two charging felonies in connection with previous robberies of Taylor's homes.

A motion picture actress whose name has not been made public was submitted to what the police call a grueling questioning at her home regarding the death of Taylor. It is not stated by the police what if anything they learned.

German Support Eagerly Sought Campaign 1916

Editor of Fatherland Testifies Democrats Offered To Buy Million Copies If He Would Attack Hughes.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Efforts on the part of Democrats to secure support for Wilson and attacks upon Hughes in the columns of the "Fatherland" during the campaign of 1916 were told at the trial of the case brought by Mayor Thompson against the Chicago Tribune when George Viereck, editor of that publication, was called to the witness stand.

Viereck said that Count von Bernstorff sought his support for Wilson during the campaign. He also testified regarding conferences with Burleson and with Senator Stone. Burleson assured him that "I'm for Wilson who is absolutely neutral." Stone "harangued" a group of German-American of whom Viereck was a member nearly an entire night pointing out that the election of Hughes meant war and that of Wilson peace. The Republicans were also seeking his aid for Hughes.

The Democratic campaign committee, he said, promised to purchase a million copies of the "Fatherland" if he would attack Hughes, which he refused to do.

Witness added that he conferred with Harding in February a year ago but declined to give details of his conversation which "might be embarrassing to the President."

Floating of Fair Bond Issue Starts

Committees Organize In Various Districts and Begin Canvass; Wailuku Wants Many Small Buyers.

Canvass for sale of bonds of the Maui County Fair and Racing Association started yesterday. In some districts committees had organized previously, in others they formed yesterday. Wailuku was one of the latter districts. There H. B. Penhallow had appointed on his district committee J. Garcia, George Weight, Jr., Dan T. Carey, Clem C. Crowell, Ralph Wilson and Joseph H. Gray. They met at the Bank of Maui in the afternoon and a few minutes later some of the committeemen were out with lists.

Program Laid Out

Chairman Penhallow in talking with his committee suggested that efforts be directed to selling rather a large number of $100 bonds than a smaller number of the larger denomination. The association is a community affair and as many as possible members of the committee should be financially interested in it he said. In the past a comparative few had pushed it to the fore, but the more persons financially interested in it, the more there would be pushing and boosting its projects. The bonds are an investment, not a contribution. They pay 6 percent, two percent better than savings accounts and there are now many securities which are not paying dividends. Fair Association bonds are a safe, conservative investment, in which practically any business house can well afford to invest at least $100. Individuals, too will find such bonds paying better than many other securities presented to them. Dividends are uncertain, interest on bonds assured.

Security Is Ample

The property of the Maui County Fair and Racing Association is conservatively estimated at $200,000 by President F. F. Baldwin in his letter. The bond issue is only one fourth of that amount, $50,000, and will constitute the entire indebtedness of the association. They will be in amounts of $100 and $500, redeemable at the end of five years at any interest date the association may elect and finally due and payable in 20 years. Only 10 percent of the amount subscribed need be paid on subscription, balance to be paid by March 1. The banks have shown their confidence in the securities by offering to loan adequate amount to prospective buyers not able to pay all at the one time and to carry the loans for a fair and reasonable period.

All Receive Benefit

It is pointed out that every business house in Maui, especially in Wailuku and Kahului receives important business increases each year through the activities of the association. At fair time, when there are races and at other times when there is entertainment on the grounds, outsiders come in. Such financial returns from support accorded the association in the purchase of one or more bonds may be considered as an addition to the six percent interest the bonds pay. It is community project and every dollar in brings to the business men from the outside redounds to their benefit. Should the association cease to function and hold fairs and races there would be bitter complaint. The visitors who came from other islands last year left several thousands of dollars on Maui and the exhibitors from outside brought business when they installed their exhibits. It is from persons who thus benefit beyond the interest they will receive that subscriptions will be primarily sought.

This is the award that has been made to Miss Helen Howell and her relatives and friends here are natural ly delighted at her achievements.
